My Math Goal This Year

The Paris Olympics just finished and a number of athletes reached their number top athletic goal – to win a GOLD MEDAL. They achieved this goal through their own hard work and with the benefit of solid coaching. You probably have a number of goals for this year. Some of them are academic goals, some might be social goal (like making new friends), and some might be your own sports or hobby goals. In the spaces below please let me know what your math goal is, what commitment you are willing to make to reach your goal, and how I can help.
